A ball game is in prospect for Thursday afternoon, between the "Suckers" and the "St. Louis Browns." Stan. Lett is captain of the Browns.

A dispatch from St. Joseph to the Evening News says: "The saloons were all closed Sunday afternoon for the second time in months. The action was deemed advisable by the saloon men, owing to the fact that the sheriff has now taken a hand in the affair, and has arrested Kibler & Seaver. All the saloon men are now under arrest on several warrants sworn out by the law and order league, but these, for some reason, did not scare the saloon men and Saturday the sheriff arrested the two men and warned the others to close. They say that every business house will now close on Sunday.

The find of oil at the well was not so large as at first supposed. The drilling has progressed rather slowly during the week, owing to the hardness of the rock in which the drill was working. The indications for both oil and gas have been very strong up to Wednesday night, when the drill penetrated a vein of salt water, which rose rapidly in the well so that it interfered with the working of the drill; the boiler failed to lower it any and work was suspended. Thursday morning it was estimated that there was nearly 400 feet of salt water in the well, which will necessitate another casing or a cessation of the work. We have not been able to learn the strength or quality of the brine, though it is said to be very strong and may be too strongly impregnated with minerals and gas to be of use as salt. The well is now down 1160 feet.—Bangor Breeze.

Take Care of the Eyes.

Do not do anything which causes a feeling of weariness at the back of the eyes, that dull headache just at the rear of the pupils, that heated feeling which very readily becomes a chronic inflammation of low degree, most disagreeable to bear, and ruinous to the fine charm and unspeakable glory of the eye.

Women of the Revolution.

As we approach Revolutionary days it is evident that the women of all the colonies were as deeply stirred as were the men at the constant injustice and growing tyranny of the British government, and they were not slow in openly avowing their abhorrence and revolt against this injustice. Their individual action consisted in the wearing only of garments of homespun manufacture; their concerted exertions in gathering in patriotic bands to spin and the singing of compacts to drink no more of the taxed tea, that significant emblem of British injustice and American revolt.—Selected.
